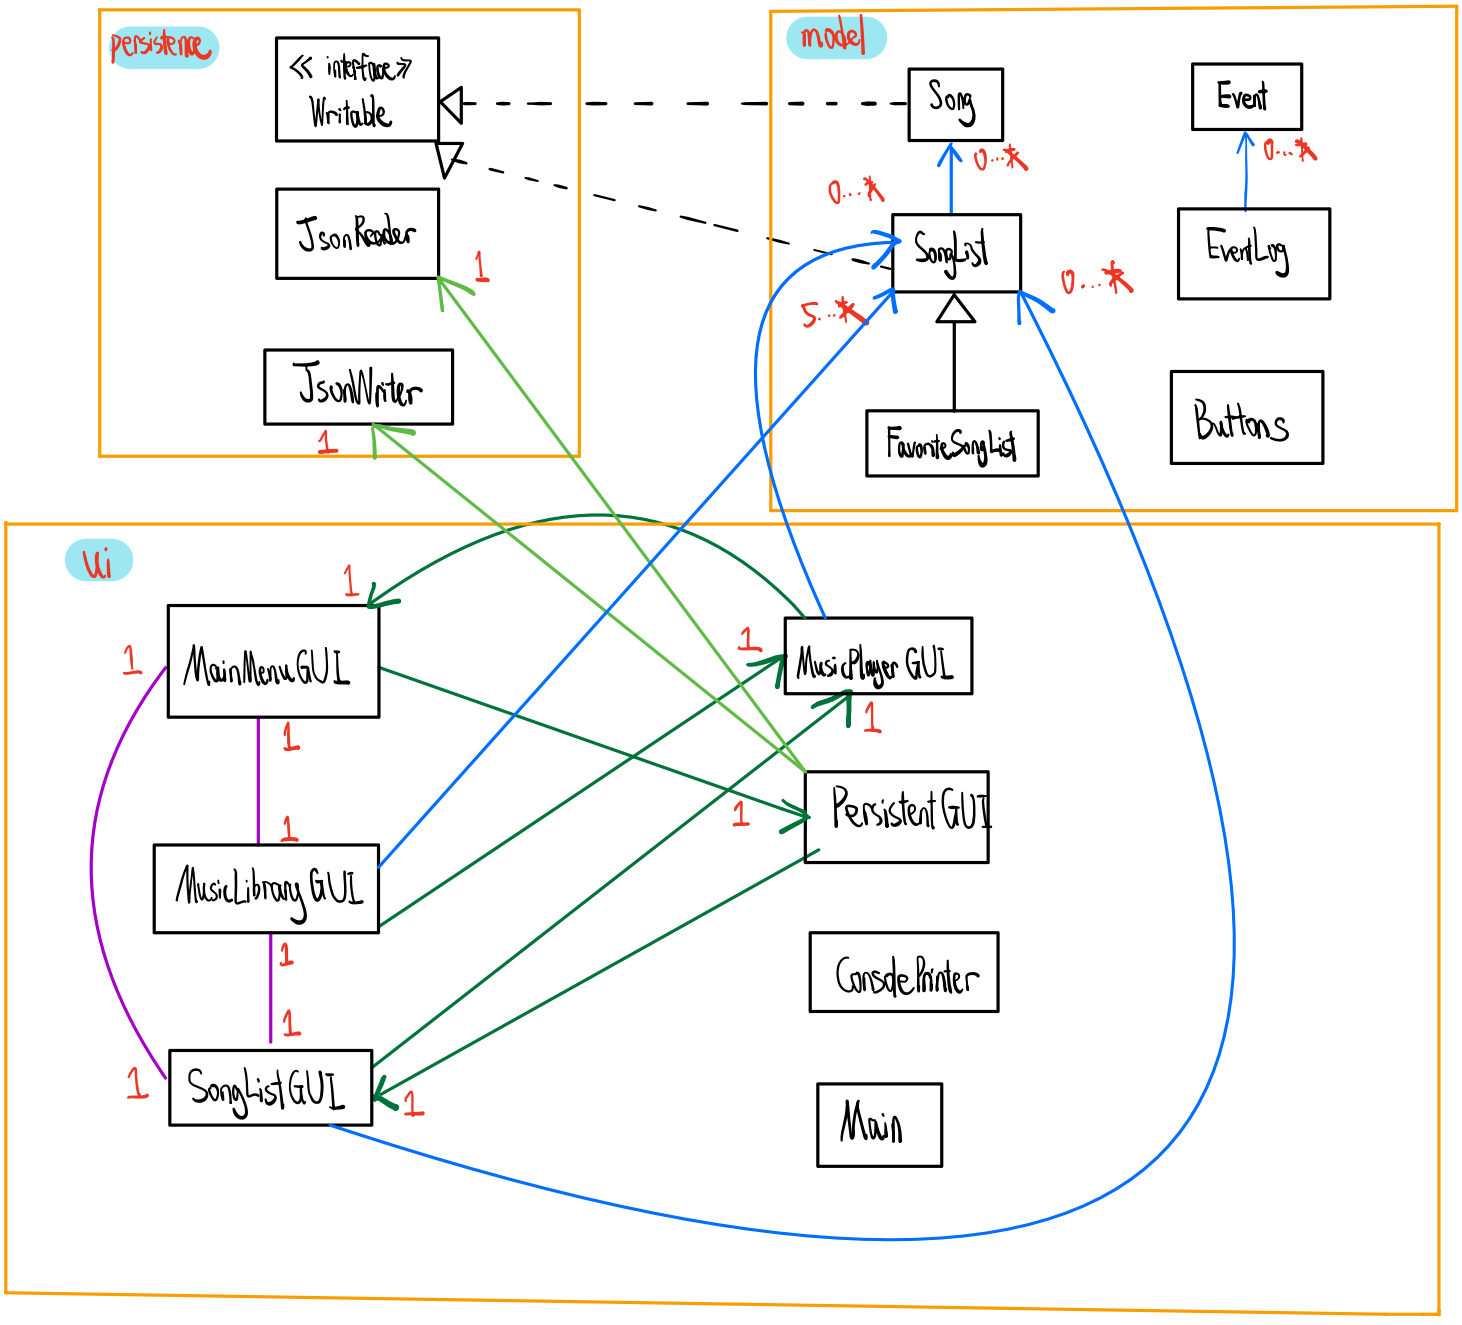
Note:


- The yellow square represents different packages.
- The black arrows represent subtyping relationships.
- The blue arrows represent associations with elements in model package.
- The dark green arrows represent associations with elements in the persistence package.
- The light green arrows represent associations with elements in the ui package.
- The purple arrows represent bidirectional associations.
- The numbers in red represent the multiplicity of each association.